

SOLAR PLEXUS CENTER - UNDEFINED

You have an undefined Solar Plexus Center, meaning you absorb and amplify others' emotions.

Understand that the emotions you feel are not yours, and that identifying with them will not benefit you.

You live in a world where 51% of humanity are emotional, so this exposure is impossible to avoid, but it is important that you learn to live among others successfully.

When you were very young, you began to think it would be safer to avoid confrontation and truth at all costs. The reasoning behind this was to avoid any emotional outbursts so that you wouldn't have to deal with fear, anger, and shock.

The truth is you simply didn't want to "rock the boat." Your emotional environment can be overwhelming and confusing, but if you understand you are feeling someone else's emotions, it all becomes a bit easier.

Only seeking the high end of emotions and trying to resolve or process emotional problems is not you.

Allowing yourself to be driven by others' emotions, or being so scared of emotions that you run away from people and relationships altogether has a negative effect in the long run.

You are designed to be emotionally neutral and calm, enjoying the ride of the emotional wave, soaking up the highs and lows without identifying with any of them or allowing emotions to drive your decisions and actions.

Never make an emotional decision. Instead, wait to be cool and neutral. Don't run from confrontation. Accept the emotional conditioning without identifying with it.

Not Knowing What to Feel.

We live in a Solar Plexus dominated world where 51% of humanity has a Defined emotional system. We live in a world that operates on a rising and falling emotional wave; a world of hope and pain. This is the nature of our world. The emotional system has enormous power.

For someone with a dormant gate in an open emotional system, the Not-self strategy is to avoid confrontation and truth. For these people, it isn't about not knowing what to feel, because they have a specific emotional theme that their conditioning can relate to.

In your case, with a completely open Solar Plexus Center, it becomes not knowing what to feel. This, in and of itself, can be an enormous dilemma. Not only are you extremely vulnerable, but you also don't know how to interpret the wave itself as you have no way to filter the incoming emotional energy.

You don't know what to desire or when to be sensitive. You don't know any of those things, because you quite literally don't know what to feel.

It's not that the feeling isn't there at all, it's just that you don't know what to make of it.

Those who have a dormant gate immediately know what to feel the moment they take in the amplification, because of the power of that, and because it is amplified. What they feel is, "I need to get away from this. I don't like it. It's uncomfortable. I don't want to have anything to do with it." In other words, they know what to do with the energy coming in. It may lead to avoidance of confrontation and ultimately truth, but they know what to do with the feeling.

In your case, you honestly do not know what to make of it, or how to deal with it.

This is the phenomenon of a totally open Solar Plexus—simply not knowing what to feel, and believing something is wrong emotionally.

NOT-SELF TALK

- I don't want to go there, because I don't want to deal with the confrontation.
- Let's not say that, because it might upset that person.
- Let's be really nice and smile so they like me.
- There is no point in going there, because I might be disappointed or rejected. It's not worth it.
- I'm afraid to tell her the truth, because I don't want to hurt her feelings.
